Executive Insights & Strategic Recommendations

Group 2

19 Nov, 2025

Objectives

TuneWorks generated $155K in 6 months with strong repeat customers and bookings.

Challenge: Growth is highly concentrated in a few key agents, entertainers, and markets, limiting ability to scale beyond their individual capacity.

The Opportunity: Double down on these proven winners while unlocking growth in underdeveloped areas.

Goal: Both drive sustainable, long-term growth.

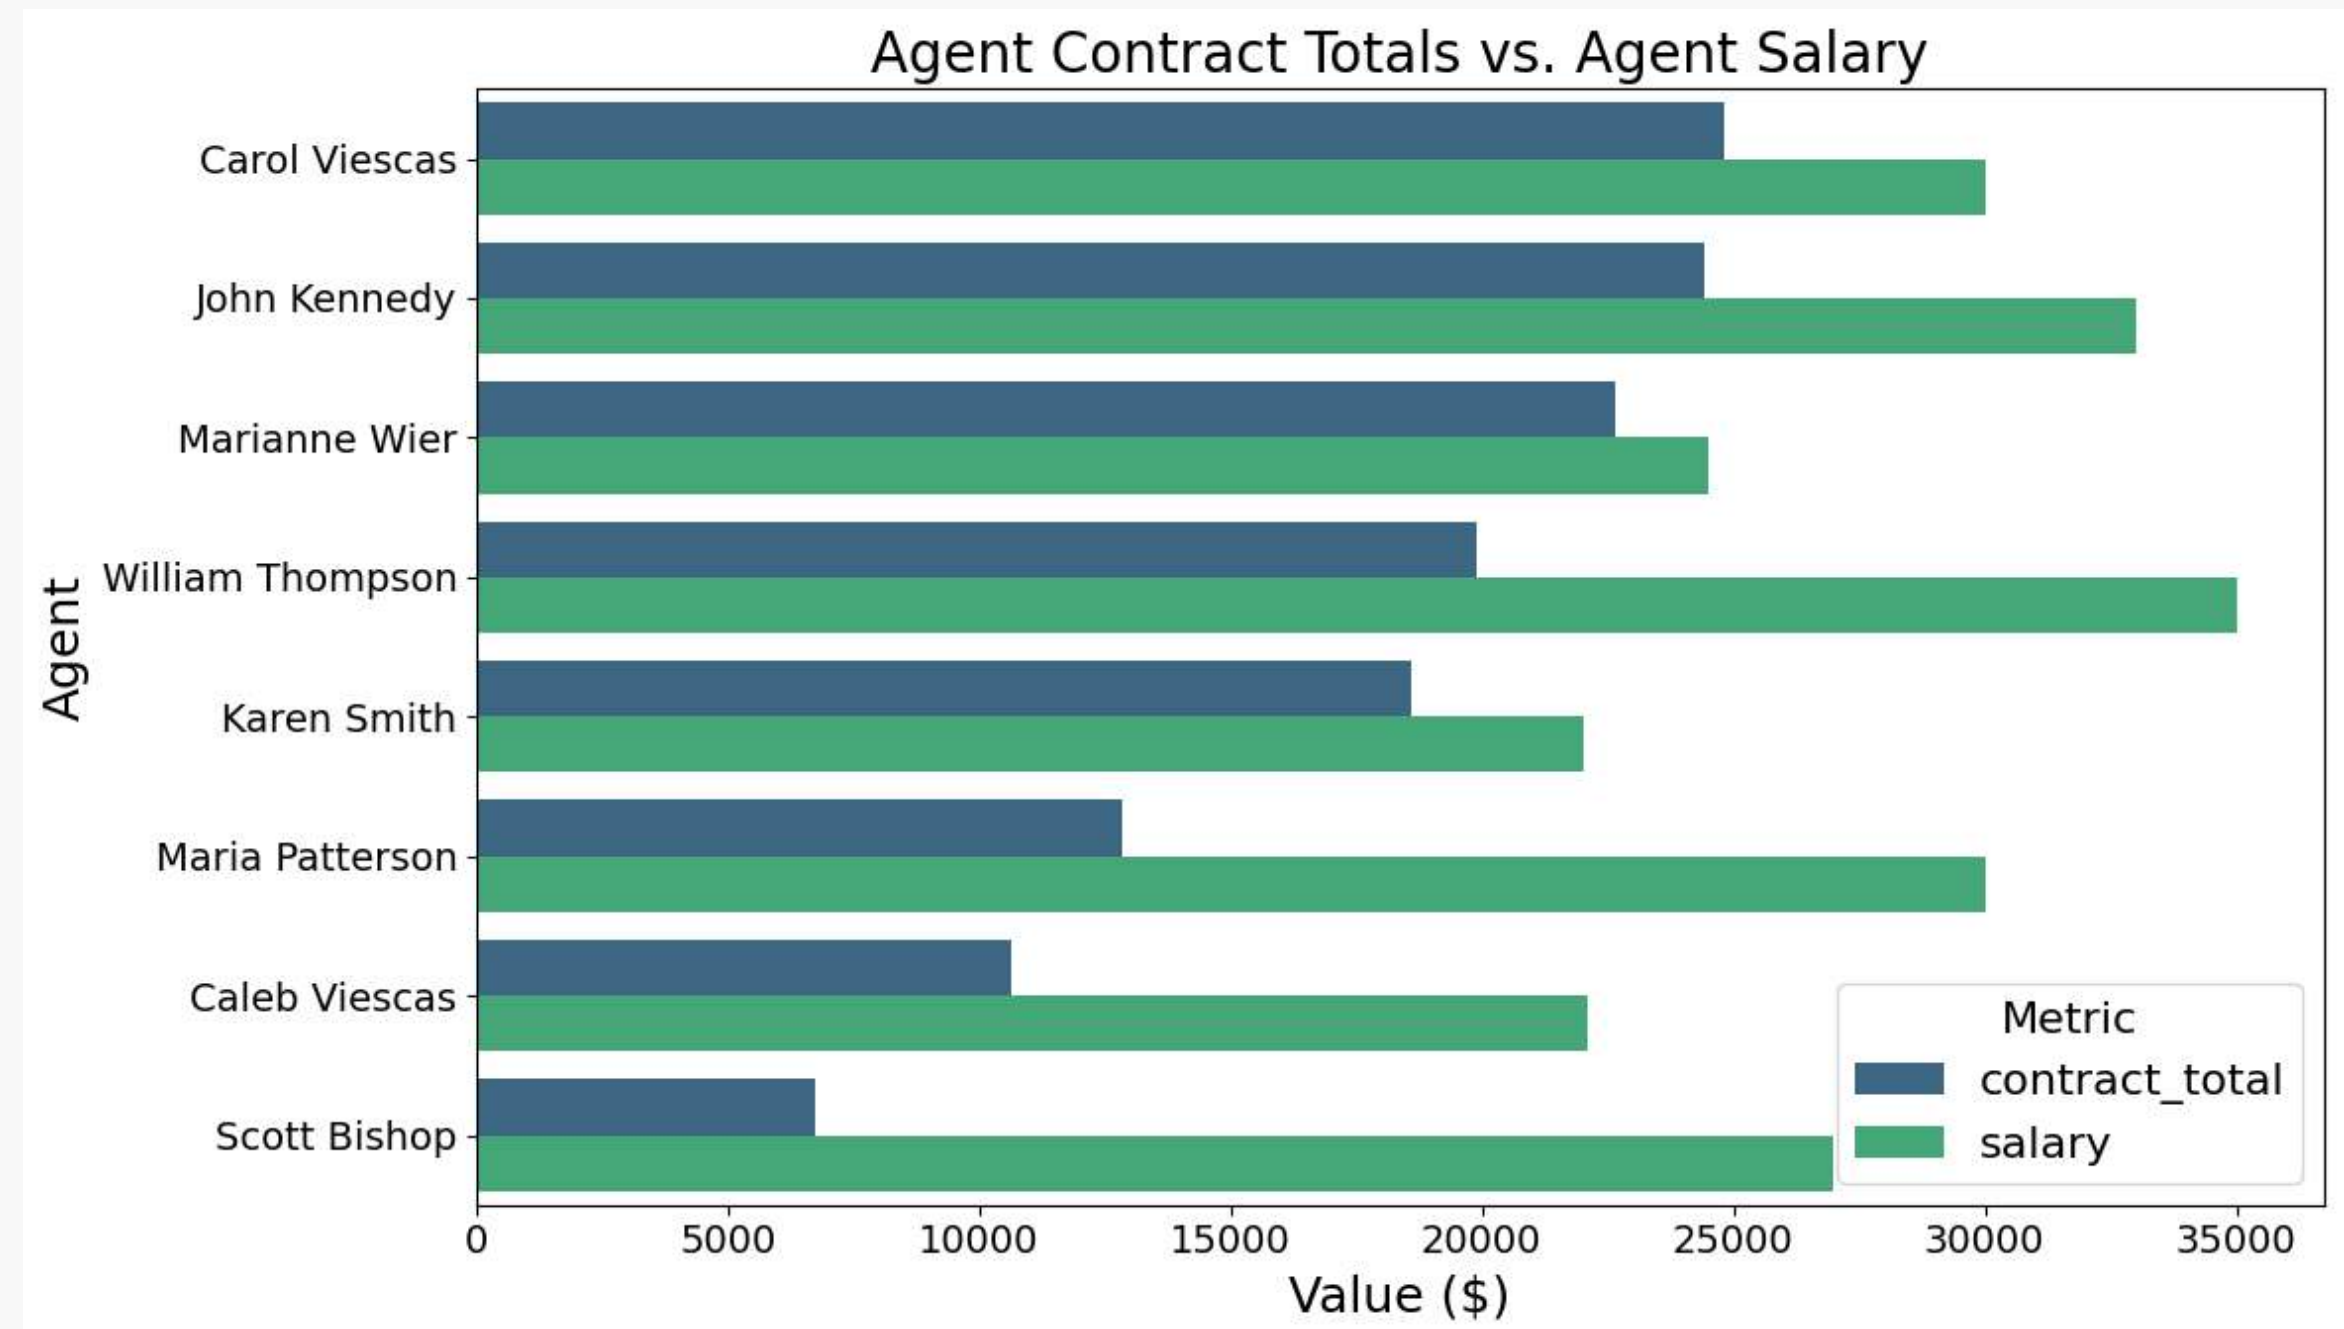

Our Approach

- Examined TuneWorks' data across agents, entertainers, styles, and customers.
- Identified key patterns in bookings, revenue, customer behavior, and performance.
- Highlighted insights that set the foundation for strategic recommendations.

Agent Insights

- Top performers: Carol, John, and Marianne ($20k+ revenue)
- Underperformer: Scott underdelivers despite high compensation
- Low engagement: Scott and Caleb
- Low average price: Maria secures many contracts but at a much lower average price ($855 vs. $1,000+ for most agents).
- Lead distribution: High-value clients are already aligned with top agents, reinforcing the current lead-assignment structure.

Agent Recommendations

Realign Agent Compensation

Agents exceeding $25K in quarterly bookings receive 15% commission on incremental revenue, driving competitive performance.

Administer Training

Agents should be trained to address their weaknesses. Lead generation for Scott and Caleb and negotiation for Maria.

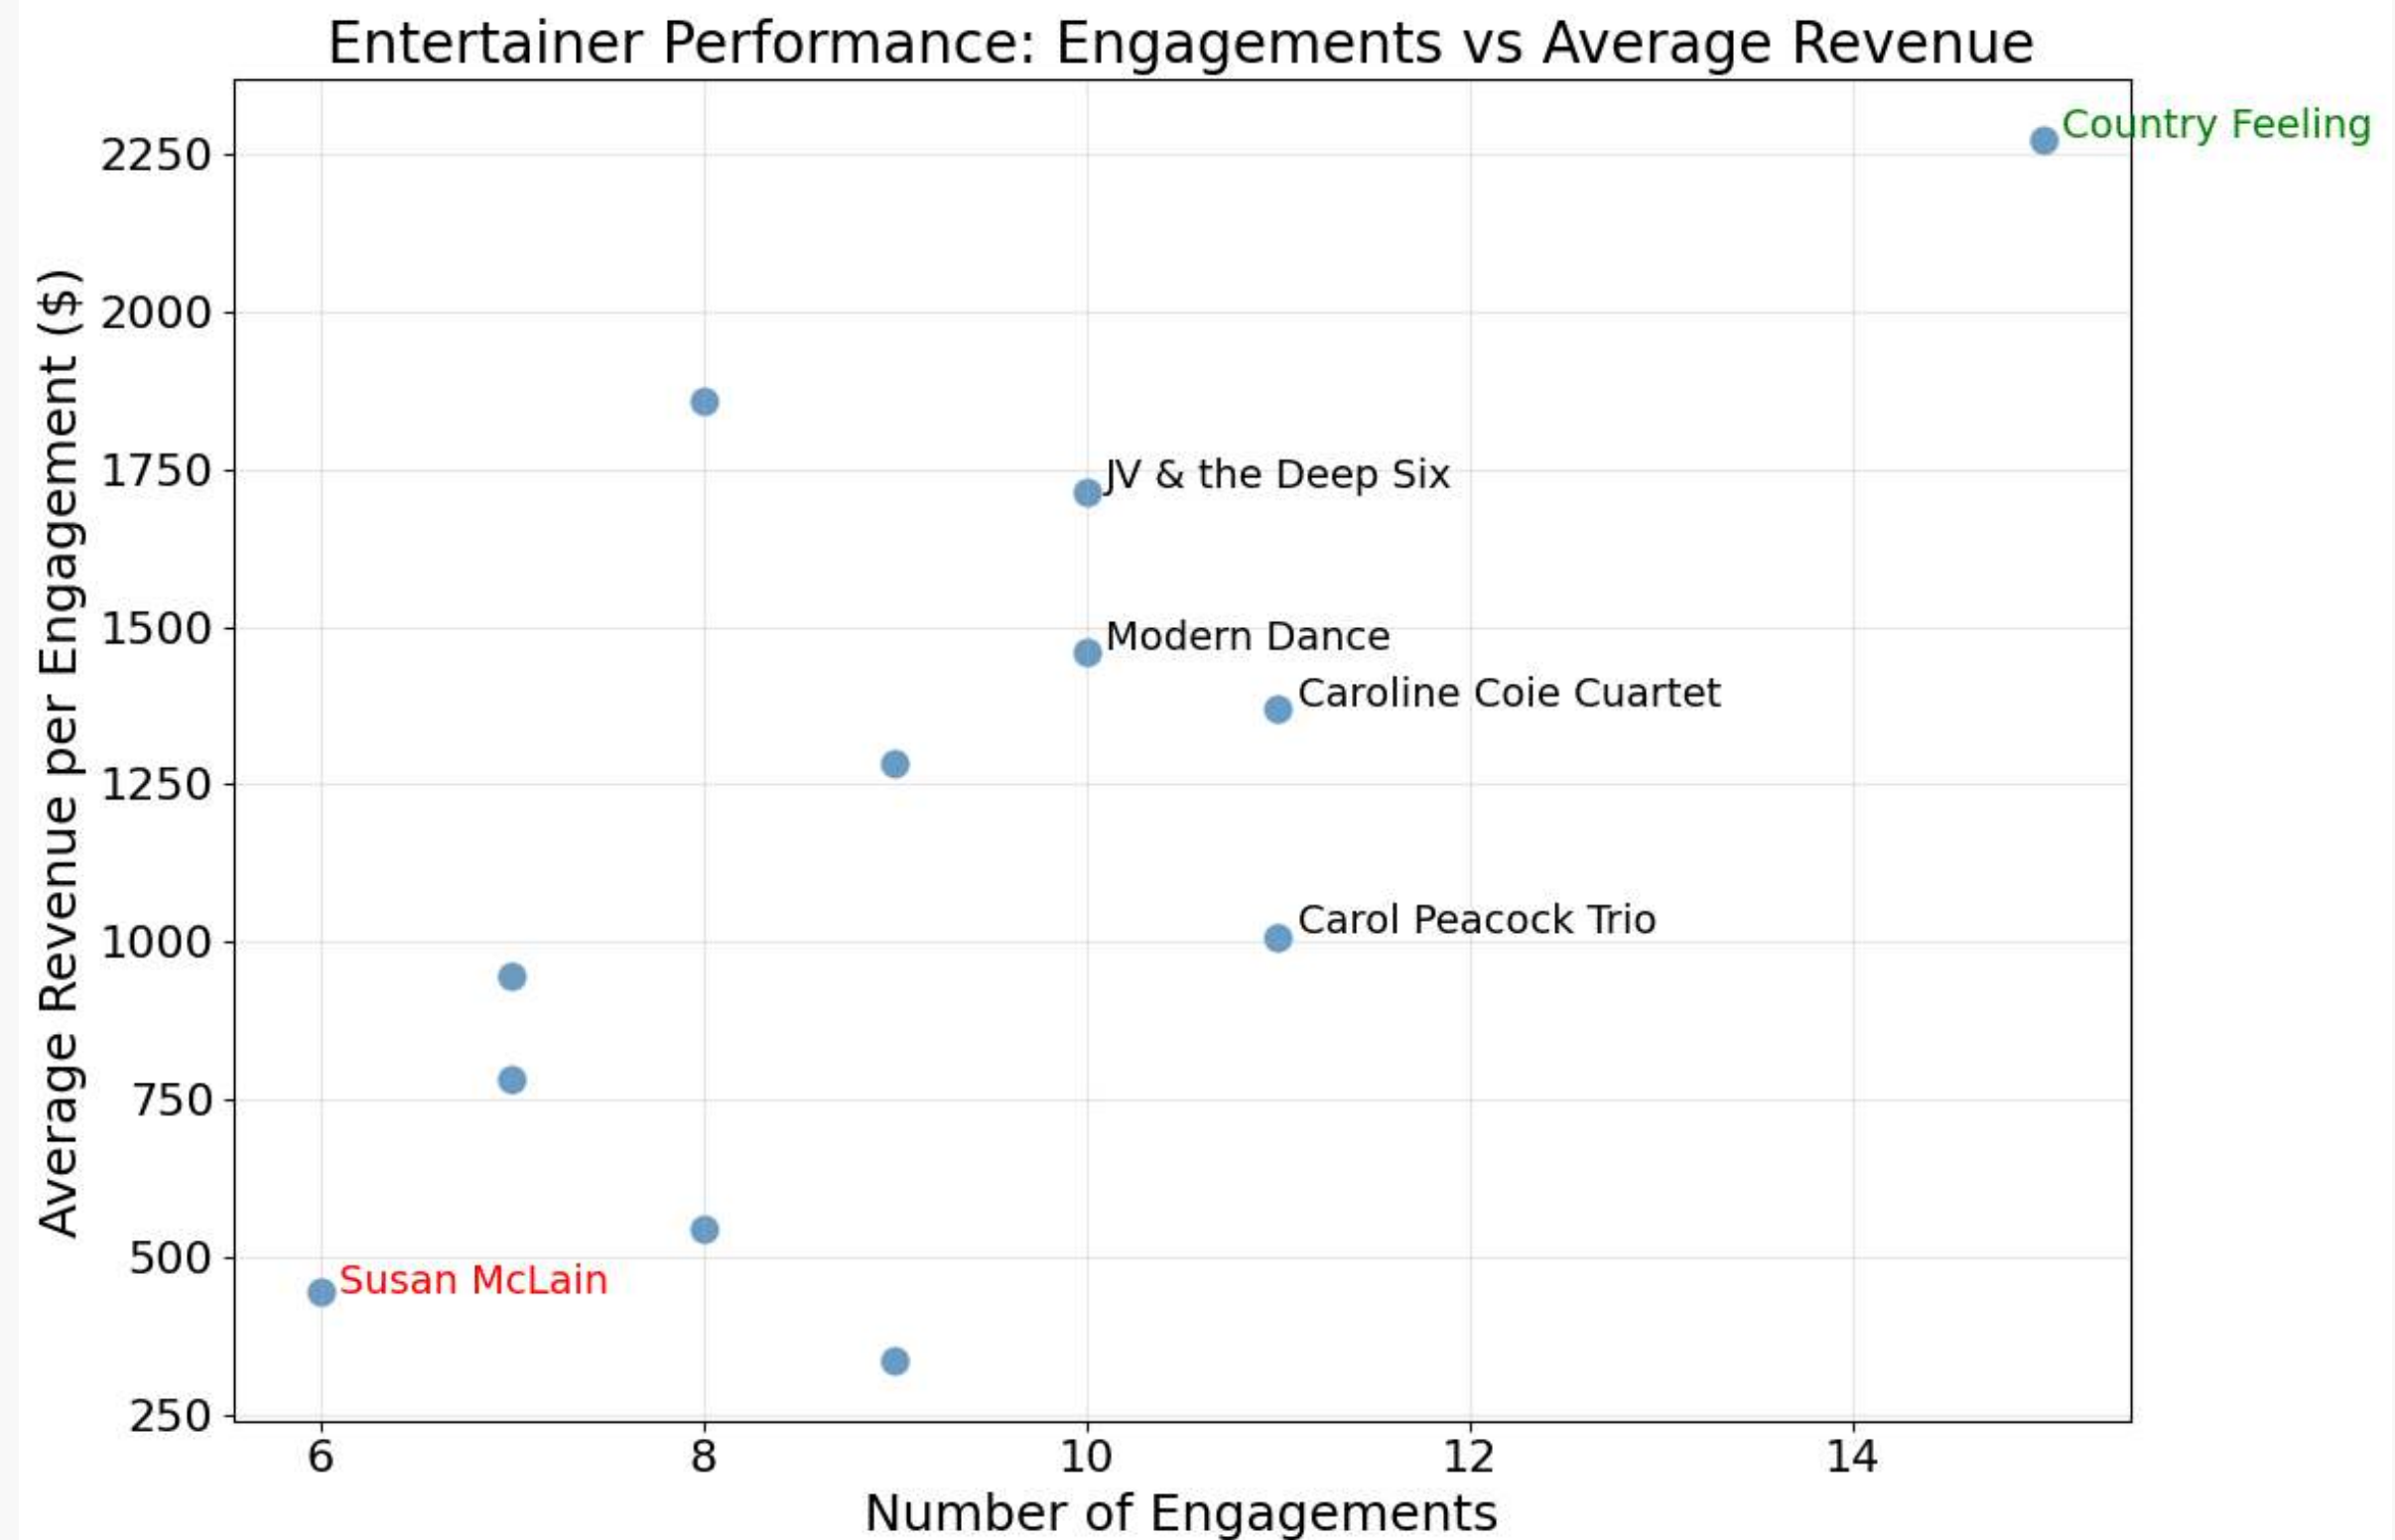

Prioritize High-Value Leads

Continue to delegate high-value leads to Carol, John, and Marianne. They are the agents with the best track records and should receive the highest priority leads.

Entertainer and Style Insights

- Top act: Country Feeling leads in both engagement count and revenue per engagement ($34,080)
- Low revenue acts: Susan McLain, Jim Glynn, Julia Schnebly, and Jazz Persuasion generate minimal revenue.
- Higher engagement typically corresponds to higher revenue
- Commercially successful genres: 60's Music ($51,230 in revenue) and Country ($48,955 in revenue)
- No-revenue genres: Rap, Modern Rock, Ballroom, Elvis, and several decade-based genres.

Entertainer and Style Recommendations

Prioritize Relationship with Country Feeling

- Top entertainer with significant financial impact.
- Expand engagements as much as possible.

Reevaluate Low-Performing Acts

- Determine whether current low-performing acts (Topazz, Jazz Persuasion, Susan McLain, etc.) can be revitalized through marketing or artistic changes. Otherwise consider removal.

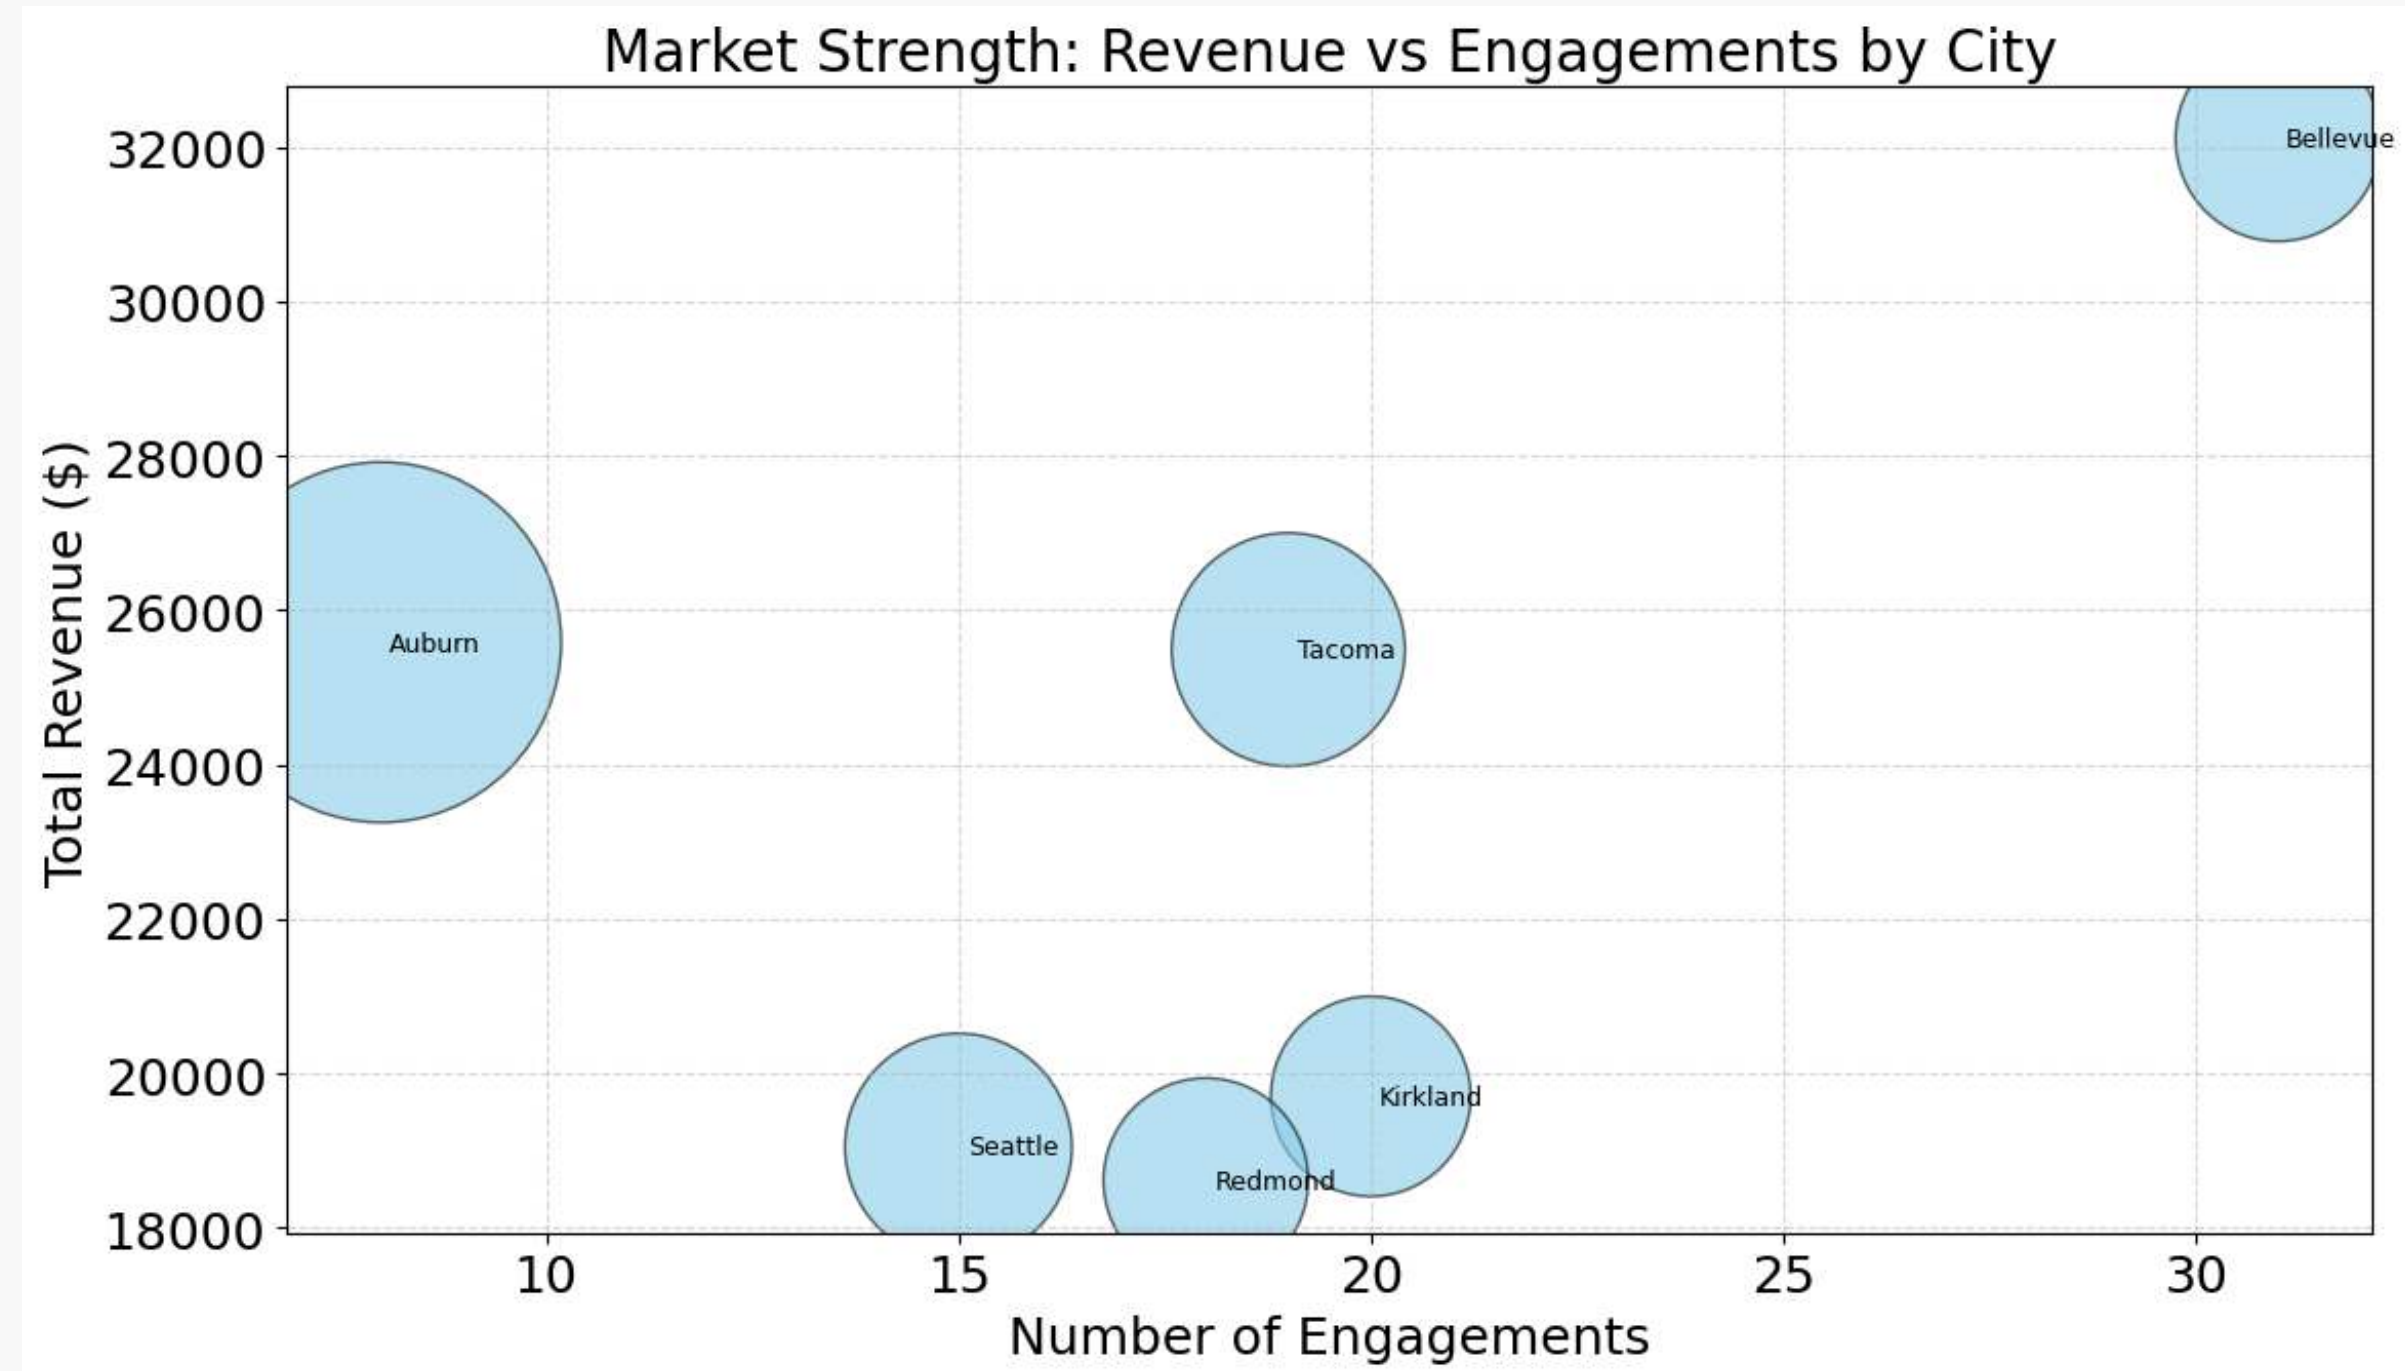

Harness Success of Top Genres

- Actively recruit additional acts within 60's Music and Country
- Consider scrapping genres with no commercial traction (Rap, Modern Rock, etc.)

Customer and Demand Insights

- Top markets: Bellevue leads in both revenue and engagement volume.
- High efficiency: Auburn generates $25.6k from 8 engagements, indicating strong revenue per booking.
- Key market: Tacoma ranks third and remains important.
- Customer loyalty: Clients frequently rebook and stick to preferred genres.
- Seasonality: Data is limited for reliable seasonal insights.

Customer and Demand Recommendations

Maintain the Bellevue Market

- This is a proven high-demand region
- Should continue to feed and expand it as a home base

Capitalize on Auburn and Tacoma Potential

- Aggressively advertise and market in these regions
- Auburn should be the top priority due to the high revenue to engagement ratio

Expand Data Collection

- Collect full year of data to track seasonality
- Collect customer demographic data to inform future ad-campaigns

Impact

- Focus on high-value agents while providing targeted training to lower-performing agents.
- Strengthen relationships with high-performing artists such as Country Feeling, while continuing to support artists in other popular genres, including 60s music.
- Maintain a strong presence in established markets like Bellevue while expanding into high-potential markets such as Auburn.
- These strategies prioritize the core drivers of the business model while preserving resources to invest in high-growth opportunities.
